OMAHA HI - LO SPLIT POKER

Omaha Hi - Lo Split Poker is played the same as Omaha Poker with some variation. Omaha Hi Lo Split Poker uses a standard 52- card deck, generally without the Joker. As in Omaha Poker, player MUST use two of their four personal cards along with three of the common five to form a traditional poker hand high and/or low. They may use a different set of two cards to form each hand. At the showdown time the best high hand and the best low hand will split the pot. If the game is played with a qualifier for low and there should be no low; the entire pot is awarded to the best-exposed high hand. A player may make the best high and best low to win the entire pot.

This game is often played with an eight qualifier for low.

All general poker rules and Hold Em rules apply to Omaha games.

Standard 52-card deck is used.

Blinds are posted as in many other forms of poker.

Players are dealt four cards, facedown, and one at a time, in rotation, in turn.

A round of betting ensues for players who wish to continue and contend for the pot.

Three cards are turned face-up in the middle of the table. These are commonly called the flop.

A round of betting ensues for players who wish to continue and contend for the pot.

A fourth card is turned next to the initial three.

A round of betting ensues for players who wish to continue and contend for the pot.

A fifth and final card is turned next to the previous four. These five cards are common to all active players.

There is a final betting round.

Straddle is allowed. A straddle is a blind raise made in the first position to the left of the big blind, this money is live and may raise if the pot has not already been capped.

Variation: If a single player wins the entire pot and the pot has a predetermined amount of chips, the winner will kill the next pot.
